AND FED. R. CIV. P. 23

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

COMPLAINT

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. This is a collective and class action brought pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, (“FLSA”), and Wisconsin’s Wage Payment and Collection Laws, Wis. Stat. § 109.01 et seq., Wis. Stat. § 104.01 et seq., Wis. Stat. § 103.001 et seq., Wis. Admin. Code § DWD 274.01 et seq., and Wis. Admin. Code § DWD 272.001 et seq. (“WWPCL”) and Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, by Plaintiff, Aaron Magalhaes, on behalf of himself and all other similarly situated current and former hourly-paid, non-exempt employees of Defendants, ProAmpac Intermediate, Inc. and Coating Excellence International, LLC, for purposes of obtaining relief under the FLSA and WWPCL for unpaid overtime compensation, unpaid agreed upon wages, liquidated damages, costs, attorneys' fees, declaratory and/or injunctive relief, and/or any such other relief the Court may deem appropriate.

2. Defendants operated (and continue to operate) an unlawful compensation system that deprived and failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other current and former hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for all hours worked and work performed each workweek, including at an overtime rate of pay for each hour worked in excess of forty (40) hours in a workweek, by shaving time from Plaintiff's and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees' weekly timesheets and/or otherwise failing to compensate said employees for all pre-shift and post-shift hours worked and/or work performed, to the detriment of said employees and to the benefit of Defendants, in violation of the FLSA and WWPCCL.

3. Defendants' unlawful compensation policy as applied in practice during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint was embodied in their written, corporate-wide "Non-Union Employee Handbook," which stated in part:

As an employee, it is your responsibility to be prompt for work. Tardiness and unexpected absenteeism result in costly delays that reduce overall performance. You are expected to be at your workstation ready to work at your designated starting time. (emphasis in original.)

4. Defendants' unlawful compensation policy as applied in practice during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint was also embodied in separate portions of their written, corporate-wide "Non-Union Employee Handbook," which informed Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees: (1) that they were "tardy," and thus faced discipline, if they were not "at their scheduled assignment and ready to work" by their scheduled shift start times; and (2) that they were "leaving early," and thus faced discipline, if they left "the facility ... any time prior to the end of the shift."

5. Defendants' unlawful compensation policy as stated in their written, corporate-wide "Non-Union Employee Handbook" during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint and as applicable to Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees was similarly and uniformly effectuated in practice by Defendants' management personnel, including but not limited to Managers and Supervisors at locations that were owned, operated, and managed by Defendants, including but not limited to at Defendants' Wrightstown, Wisconsin location.

6. Defendants' failure to compensate its hourly paid, non-exempt employees for compensable work performed each workweek, including but not limited to at an overtime rate of pay, in such as fashion as described and detailed herein was intentional, willful, and violated federal law as set forth in the FLSA and state law as set forth in the WWPCL.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This Court has original federal question jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 because this case is brought under the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 201, et seq.

8. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367, over the state law claims, Wisconsin's Wage Payment and Collection Laws, Wis. Stat. § 109.01 et seq., Wis. Stat. § 104.01 et seq., Wis. Stat. § 103.001 et seq., Wis. Admin. Code § DWD 274.01 et seq., and Wis. Admin. Code § DWD 272.001 et seq., because they are so related in this action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution.

9. Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and (c), because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this District, and Defendants have substantial and systematic contacts in this District.

As an employee, it is your responsibility to be prompt for work. Tardiness and unexpected absenteeism result in costly delays that reduce overall performance. You are expected to be at your workstation ready to work at your designated starting time. (emphasis in original.)

54. Defendants' unlawful compensation policy as applied in practice during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint was also embodied in separate portions of their written, corporate-wide "Non-Union Employee Handbook," which informed Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees: (1) that they were "tardy," and thus faced discipline, if they were not "at their scheduled assignment and ready to work" by their scheduled shift start times; and (2) that they were "leaving early," and thus faced discipline, if they left "the facility ... any time prior to the end of the shift."

55. TIMESHAVING

56. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants maintained the same or similar electronic time-clock system (hereinafter simply “Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system”) that Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees used on a daily basis for timekeeping and/or recordkeeping purposes.

57. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees used Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system on a daily basis for timekeeping and/or recordkeeping purposes.

58. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees used Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system to “clock in” and to “clock out” of work each day at the beginning and end of their shifts, respectively.

59. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees performed compensable work immediately after “clocking in” via Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system at the beginning of their shifts each work day.

60. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees performed compensable work immediately prior to “clocking out” via Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system at the end of their shifts each work day.

61. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees used Defendants’ electronic timekeeping system to record hours worked and work performed each work day and each workweek.

62. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff's and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees' "clock in" and "clock out" times each work day via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system were kept, stored, and/or retained by Defendants.

63. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff's and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees' "clock in" and "clock out" times each work day via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system recorded, reflected, and represented actual hours worked and work performed each work day and each workweek by Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees. However, during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants' pay policies and practices failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for all hours actually worked and/or work performed each work day and each workweek.

64. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants directed, expected, and/or required Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees to arrive to work on Defendants' premises and to "clock in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system prior to their scheduled shift start times.

65. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants directed, expected, and/or required Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees to arrive to work on Defendants' premises, to "clock in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system, and to be ready to work prior to their scheduled shift start times. For example, as it related to Plaintiff's normal and customary 6:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m.

scheduled and daily shift time, Defendants' managers and supervisors directed, expected, and/or required Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees at the Wrightstown, Wisconsin location to arrive to work, "clock in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system, and be ready to work approximately seven (7) minutes prior to the scheduled shift start time of 6:00 a.m.

66. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants directed, expected, and/or required Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees to arrive to work on Defendants' premises, to "clock in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system, and to be ready to work prior to their scheduled shift start times in order to perform any pre-shift preparatory activities, such as checking their work assignments for the day, meeting and debriefing with other employees regarding work tasks, instructions, directions, and assignments for the day, and relieving employees from the previous shift.

67. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1) and if Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees did not arrive to work on Defendants' premises, "clock in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system prior to their scheduled shift start times, and were not ready to work prior to their scheduled shift start times, Defendants disciplined Plaintiff and other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees.

68. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees arrived to work on Defendants' premises, "clocked in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system prior to their scheduled shift start times, and immediately began performing compensable work at Defendants' direction, with Defendants' knowledge, on Defendants' behalf, and for Defendants' benefit.

69. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants did not compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for any hours worked or work performed prior to their scheduled shift start times as recorded and reflected by the actual "clock in" times via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system.

70. On each work day during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants directed, expected, and/or required Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees to perform work on Defendants' premises immediately prior to "clocking out" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system at the end of their scheduled shift end times.

71. Often times during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees performed work on Defendants' premises beyond their scheduled shift end times and immediately prior to "clocking out" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system.

72. Often times during the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of the Complaint (ECF No. 1), Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees performed work on Defendants' premises beyond their scheduled shift end times and immediately prior to "clocking out" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system at Defendants' direction, with Defendants' knowledge, on Defendants' behalf, and for Defendants' benefit. However, Defendants did not compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for work performed beyond their scheduled shift end times as recorded and reflected via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system.

73. During the three (3) year period immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1) and even though each work day Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees arrived to work on Defendants' premises, "clocked in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system prior to their scheduled shift start times, and began performing compensable work, Defendants' policy in practice was not to compensate said employees until their scheduled shift start times – as opposed to when compensable work actually commenced each work day.

74. During the three (3) year period immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1) and even though each work day Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees performed work on Defendants' premises immediately prior to "clocking out" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system after the end their scheduled shift end times, Defendants' policy in practice was not to compensate said employees when compensable work actually ceased each work day – instead, Defendants compensated said employees as of their scheduled shift end times.

75. During the three (3) year period immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants' pay policies and practices applicable to Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees was to round said employees' actual hours worked and/or work performed each work day as recorded, reflected, and represented via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system in the following manner: forward to said employees' scheduled shift start times at the beginning of said employees' shifts; and backwards to said employees' scheduled shift end times at the end of said employees' shifts. Such a practice resulted in Defendants uniformly shaving time from Plaintiff's and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees' timesheets each work day and each workweek for pre-shift and post-shift hours worked and/or work performed while "clocked in" via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system.

76. During the three (3) year period immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants shaved time from Plaintiff's and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees' timesheets each work day and each workweek for pre-shift and post-shift compensable work performed by failing to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees when compensable work commenced each work day (as recorded, reflected, and represented via Defendants' electronic timekeeping system); instead, Defendants compensated Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees based on the rounded times each workweek via its electronic timekeeping system.

77. During the three (3) year period immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants' pay policies and practices failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for work performed each work day as described herein despite Defendants having an actual and accurate record of said employees' pre-shift and post-shift hours worked and/or work performed via their electronic timekeeping system.

78. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants' policies in practice failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees at the correct and lawful overtime rate of pay for all hours worked and work performed in excess of forty (40) hours in a workweek.

79. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants did not properly and lawfully compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for all hours actually worked and/or work performed each work day and each workweek, including but not limited to at an overtime rate of pay.

80. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants' policies in practice unlawfully and impermissibly failed to, on a daily and/or weekly basis, compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees when compensable work commenced and ceased each work day.

81. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1) and during workweeks when no overtime was due, Defendants suffered or permitted Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees to work without being paid appropriate and lawful compensation for all hours worked and/or work performed each work day and each workweek at their regular and/or agreed-upon hourly rates of pay.

82. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants knew and/or were aware that their pay policies and practices failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees for all pre-shift and post-shift compensable work performed as described herein at said employees' regular and/or agreed-upon hourly rates of pay and/or at an overtime rate of pay.

83. Defendants were or should have been aware that their compensation policies in practice failed to compensate Plaintiff and all other hourly-paid, non-exempt employees in the same or similar fashion for all hours worked and/or work performed each work day and each workweek at said employees' regular and/or agreed-upon hourly rates of pay and/or at an overtime rate of pay.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS UNDER THE FLSA

84. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and all other similarly situated employees as authorized under the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). The similarly situated employees include:

All hourly-paid, non-exempt employees employed by Defendants within the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1) who have not been compensated for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours in a workweek as a result of Defendants' failure to compensate said employees for all pre-shift and post-shift hours worked and/or work performed.

85. Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective primarily performed non-exempt job duties each workweek and, thus, were legally entitled to overtime pay for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) in a workweek.

86. Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective were compensated on an hourly basis (and not on a salary basis) each workweek and, thus, were legally entitled to overtime pay for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) in a workweek.

87. During the three (3) years immediately preceding the filing of this Complaint (ECF No. 1), Defendants, as a matter of policy and practice, did not compensate Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective for all pre-shift and post-shift hours worked and/or work performed each work day and each workweek. These practices resulted in Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective being denied overtime compensation by Defendants at the rate of one and one-half times their regular hourly rate of pay for hours worked in excess of forty (40) in a workweek.

88. The First Claim for Relief is brought under and maintained as opt-in Collective Actions pursuant to § 216(b) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. 216(b), by Plaintiff on behalf of the FLSA Collectives.

89. The FLSA Collective claims may be pursued by those who affirmatively opt in to this case, pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

90. Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective are and have been similarly situated, have and have had substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, and are and have been subject to Defendants' decisions, policies, plans and programs, practices, procedures, protocols, routines, and rules willfully failing and refusing to compensate them for each hour worked including overtime compensation. The claims of Plaintiff as stated herein are the same as those of the FLSA Collective.

91. Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective seek relief on a collective basis challenging, among other FLSA violations, Defendants' practice of failing to properly and lawfully compensate employees for all work performed and/or hours worked at the correct and lawful overtime rate of pay each workweek, in violation of the FLSA.

92. Defendants were or should have been aware that their unlawful practices failed to compensate and deprived Plaintiff and the FLSA Collective of the appropriate and lawful overtime wages and compensation due and owing to them, in violation of the FLSA.

93. The FLSA Collective is readily ascertainable. For purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, the names, phone numbers, and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided to the FLSA Collective via first class mail to the last address known by Defendants and through posting at Defendants' facility in areas where postings are normally made.

94. Defendants' conduct, as set forth in this Complaint, was willful and in bad faith, and has caused significant damages to Plaintiff and the putative FLSA Collective.

96. The members of the Wisconsin Class are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the members of the Wisconsin Class are determinable from the records of Defendants. The job titles, length of employment, and the rates of pay for each member of the Wisconsin Class are also determinable from Defendants’ records. For purposes of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

97. The proposed Wisconsin Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, and more importantly the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the Court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, upon information and belief, there are over one hundred (100) members of each of the Wisconsin Class.

98. Plaintiff’s claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any members of the Wisconsin Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief which would be sought by each member of the Wisconsin Class in separate actions. All of the members of the Wisconsin Class were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein.

Defendants' corporate-wide policies and practices affected all members of the Wisconsin Class similarly, and Defendants benefited from the same type of unfair and/or wrongful acts as to each member of the Wisconsin Class. Plaintiff and other members of the Wisconsin Class sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies and practices and procedures.

99. Plaintiff is able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Wisconsin Class and has no interests antagonistic to the Wisconsin Class. Plaintiff is represented by counsel who are experienced and competent in both collective/class action litigation and employment litigation and have previously represented plaintiffs in wage and hour cases.

100. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy – particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a number of similarly-situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expense that numerous individual actions engender. Because the losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Wisconsin Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual members of the Wisconsin Classes to redress the wrongs done to them.

101. Important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Wisconsin Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Wisconsin Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants and resulting in the impairment of class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

102. Defendants have violated the WWPCCL regarding payment of regular wages and overtime wages. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the Complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.

103. There are questions of fact and law common to the Wisconsin Class that predominate over any questions affecting only individual members. The questions of law and fact common to the Wisconsin Class arising from Defendants' actions include, without limitation, the following: (1) Whether the work performed by Plaintiff and the Wisconsin Class is compensable under federal law and/or Wisconsin law; (2) Whether Defendants engaged in a pattern or practice of forcing, coercing, deceiving and/or permitting Plaintiff and the Wisconsin Class to perform work for Defendants' benefit without being properly compensated; (3) Whether Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff and the Wisconsin Class for all work Defendants suffered or permitted them to perform each work day and each workweek; and (4) The nature and extent of class-wide injury and the measure of damages for the injury.

104. The questions set forth above predominate over any questions affecting only individual persons, and a class action is superior with respect to considerations of consistency, economy, efficiency, fairness and equity, to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the state law claims.
